People with appendix cancer may experience the following symptoms or signs. Sometimes, people with appendix cancer do not show any of these symptoms. Or, these symptoms may be caused by a medical condition that is not cancer.

- Appendicitis
- Ascites, which is fluid in the abdomen
- Bloating
- Pain in the abdomen or pelvis area
- Increased girth (size of the waistline), with or without a protrusion of the navel (bellybutton)
- Changes in bowel function
- Infertility, which is the inability to have a child

If you are concerned about one or more of the symptoms or signs on this list, please talk with your doctor. Your doctor will ask how long and how often you?ve been experiencing the symptom(s), in addition to other questions. This is to help find out the cause of the problem, called a diagnosis [2].

If cancer is diagnosed, relieving symptoms remains an important part of cancer care and treatment. This may also be called symptom management, palliative care, or supportive care. Be sure to talk with your health care team about symptoms you experience, including any new symptoms or a change in symptoms.

The next section helps explain what tests and scans may be needed to learn more about the cause of the symptoms. Use the menu on the side of your screen to select Diagnosis, or you can select another section, to continue reading this guide.
