Questions to ask after getting a diagnosis

- What type of tumor has been diagnosed?
- Where exactly is the tumor located?
- Is the tumor diffuse or focal? What does this mean?
- Can you explain my child's pathology report (laboratory test results) to me?

- Are other tests needed to confirm this diagnosis?
- What is your familiarity with my child's tumor type and its treatment?

Questions to ask about choosing a treatment and managing side effects

- What are the treatment options?
- What clinical trials are available for my child at this center? How do I find out more about them?
- What new research is being done at other treatment centers? Where are they located, and are these clinical trials open to my child?
- What treatment plan do you recommend? Why?
- What is the goal of each treatment? Is it to eliminate the tumor, help my child feel better, or both?
- What are the chances for success with the planned treatments?
- Who will be part of my child's health care team, and what does each member do?
- Who will be leading my child's overall treatment?
- What are the possible side effects of this treatment, both in the short term and long term?
- How will this treatment affect my child's daily life? Will he or she be able to go to school and perform his or her usual activities?
- Could this treatment affect my child's ability to become pregnant or have children in the future? If so, should I talk with a fertility specialist before treatment begins?
- If I'm worried about managing the costs of medical care, who can help me?

- What support services are available to my child? To my family?
- Whom should I call for questions or problems?

Questions to ask about having radiation therapy or chemotherapy

- What type of treatment is recommended?
- What is the goal of this treatment?
- How long will it take to give this treatment?
- What side effects can I expect during treatment?
- What are the possible long-term effects of having this treatment?
- What can be done to relieve the side effects?

Questions to ask about having surgery

- What type of surgery will my child have?
- How long will the operation take?
- How long will my child be in the hospital?
- Can you describe what recovery from surgery will be like?
- What are the possible long-term effects of having this surgery?

Questions to ask about planning follow-up care

- What is the chance that the tumor will come back? Should I watch for specific signs or symptoms?

- What long-term side effects or late effects are possible based on the treatment my child received?
- What follow-up tests will my child need, and how often will he or she need them?
- How do I get a treatment summary and survivorship care plan to keep in my child's records?
- Who will be leading my child's follow-up care?
- What survivorship support services are available to my child? To my family?
