Questions to ask after getting a diagnosis

- What type of brain tumor do I have?
- Is the tumor cancerous?
- What is the tumor's grade? What does this mean?
- Can you explain my pathology report (laboratory test results) to me?
- Will an experienced neuropathologist review my pathology slides?

- Do you have reading material that would help me understand my disease?
- Who will be coordinating my overall treatment?
- Should I get a second opinion?
- Do you attend expert meetings to discuss complicated tumor cases?
- Are there brain tumor centers of excellence that you recommend I contact?
- Does your practice include multidisciplinary care? What does this mean?
- If I'm worried about managing the costs related to my medical care, who can help me with these concerns?
- Do you know of a local support group for people with brain tumors?

Questions to ask about choosing a treatment and managing side effects

- What are my treatment options?
- What clinical trials are open to me? Where are they located, and how do I find out more about them?
- How many brain tumors do you treat each year?
- What treatment plan do you recommend? Why?
- What is the goal of each treatment? Is it to eliminate the tumor, help me feel better, or both?
- Would any of these treatment options keep me from participating in a clinical trial in the future?

- When should I start treatment?
- Who will be part of my health care team, and what does each member do?
- What are the possible side effects of each treatment, both in the short term and the long term?
- How will this treatment affect my daily life? Will I be able to work, exercise, and perform my usual activities?
- Could this treatment affect my sex life? If so, how and for how long?
- Could this treatment affect my ability to become pregnant or have children? If so, should I talk with a fertility specialist before treatment begins?
- What level of caregiving will I need during treatment and recovery?
- Whom should I call for questions or problems?

Questions to ask about having surgery

- What type of surgery will I have?
- How long will the operation take?
- How long will I be in the hospital?
- Can you describe what my recovery from surgery will be like?
- What are the possible long-term effects of having this surgery?

Questions to ask about having radiation therapy, chemotherapy, or

targeted therapy

- What type of treatment is recommended?
- What is the goal of this treatment?
- How long will it take to give this treatment?
- What side effects can I expect during treatment?
- What are the possible long-term effects of having this treatment?
- What can be done to relieve the side effects?

Questions to ask about planning follow-up care

- What is the risk of the cancer returning? Are there signs and symptoms I should watch for?
- What long-term side effects or late effects are possible based on the treatment I received?
- After treatment, what follow-up tests will I need, and how often will I need them?
- How do I get a treatment summary and survivorship care plan to keep in my personal records?
- Who will be coordinating my follow-up care?
- What survivorship support services are available to me? To my family?
