Questions to ask after getting a diagnosis

- What type of eye cancer do I have?
- Where exactly is the tumor located?
- What stage is the eye cancer? What grade is it? What does this mean?
- What is the likelihood that the cancer is metastatic?

- Can you explain my pathology report (laboratory test results) to me?
- Do you recommend any additional diagnostic tests, such as cytogenetics or gene expression profiling?
- Who can help me interpret the results of this test(s)?
- Do I need treatment right away?

Questions to ask about choosing a treatment and managing side effects

- What experience do you have in treating patients with this type of cancer?
- What are my treatment options?
- What clinical trials are open to? Where are they located, and how do I find out more about them?
- What treatment plan do you recommend? Why?
- What is the goal of each treatment? Is it to eliminate the cancer, help me feel better, or both?
- What are the possible side effects of this treatment, both in the short term and the long term?
- Is loss of vision a possible side effect? If so, when could vision changes occur?
- Who will be part of my health care team, and what does each member do?
- Who will be coordinating my overall treatment?
- How will this treatment affect my daily life? Will I be able to work, exercise, or perform my usual activities?

- Could this treatment affect my sex life? If so, how and for how long?
- Could this treatment affect my ability to become pregnant or have children? If so, should I talk with a fertility specialist before cancer treatment begins?
- If I'm worried about managing the costs related to my cancer care, who can help me with these concerns?
- What support services are available to me? To my family?
- Whom should I call for questions or problems?
- Is there anything else I should be asking?

Questions to ask about having surgery
