This section has been reviewed and approved by the Cancer.Net Editorial Board [2], 08/2015

ON THIS PAGE: You will find some questions to ask your child's doctor or other members of your child's health care team, to help you and your child better understand his/her diagnosis, treatment plan, and overall care. To see other pages, use the menu on the side of your screen.

Talking often with the doctor is important [3] to make informed decisions about your child's health care. These suggested questions are a starting point to help you learn more about your child's cancer care and treatment. You are also encouraged to ask additional questions that are important to your family. You may want to print this list and bring it to your child's next appointment, or download Cancer.Net's free mobile app [4] for an e-list and other interactive tools to manage your child's care.

Questions to ask after getting a diagnosis

- Can you explain my child's pathology report (laboratory test results) and radiology reports (imaging test results) to me?
- Can you give me copies of these reports so I can have a record of them?
- What is the histology of the tumor? What does this mean?

- What is the stage of the tumor? What does this mean?

Questions to ask about choosing a treatment and managing side effects

- What are my child's treatment options?
- What clinical trials are open to my child? Where are they located, and how can we find out more about them?
- What treatment plan do you recommend? Why?
- What is the goal of each treatment? Is it to eliminate the cancer, help my child feel better, or both?
- What are the possible side effects of each treatment option, both in the short term and the long term?
- Who will be part of my child's health care team, and what does each member do?
- Who will be coordinating my child's overall treatment?
- How long will my child receive treatment?
- How will this treatment affect my child's daily life? Will he or she be able to go to school and perform his or her usual activities?
- What should I do if my child has abdominal pain with vomiting?
- Will this treatment change how my child goes through puberty?
- Will this treatment affect my child's dental care?
- Can my child play sports and, if so, which ones? Are there any precautions we need to take when he or she participates in sports?

- Could this treatment affect my child's ability to become pregnant or have children in the future? If so, should we talk with a fertility specialist before cancer treatment begins?
- If my child has children in the future, what is their risk of developing a Wilms tumor?
- If I'm worried about managing the costs related to my child's medical care, who can help me with these concerns?
- What support services are available to my child? To my family?
- Whom should I call for questions or problems?
- Is there anything else I should be asking?

Questions to ask about having surgery

- What type of surgery will my child have?
- How long will the operation take?
- How long will my child need to be in the hospital?
- Can you describe what the recovery from surgery will be like?
- What are the possible long-term effects of having this surgery?

Questions to ask about having radiation therapy or chemotherapy

- What type of treatment is recommended?
- What is the goal of this treatment?
- How long will it take to give this treatment?

- What side effects can my child expect to experience during treatment?
- What are the possible long-term effects of having this treatment?
- What can be done to relieve or manage these side effects?

Questions to ask about planning follow-up care

- What is the risk of the tumor returning? Are there signs and symptoms we should watch for?
- What long-term side effects or late effects are possible based on the cancer treatment my child received?
- What follow-up tests will my child need, and how often will he or she need them?
- How do I get a treatment summary and survivorship care plan to keep in my child's personal records?
- Who will be coordinating my child's follow-up care?
- What survivorship support services are available to my child? To my family?
