

Contact Us [1]

Thank you for visiting ASCO's patient information website, Cancer.Net. ASCO welcomes your comments and questions about Cancer.Net and its patient information program. Below are answers to some frequently asked questions about the site's content, technical support, and navigation assistance, as well as general contact information.

Please note that ASCO staff cannot answer personal medical questions or provide treatment recommendations. Please talk with your doctor about all individual cancer care decisions.

How do I find an oncologist in my area?

Cancer.Net offers a free, searchable online Find an Oncologist database [2].

Who do I contact if I'm interested in reprinting Cancer.Net content?

Complete the Permissions Request Form [3] and return it to permissions@asco.org [4].

How can I learn more about Cancer.Net's Linking Policy?

Visit Cancer.Net's Linking Policy [5] page. To request a link on Cancer.Net, complete and return the Linking Request Form [6] (PDF) to contactus@cancer.net [7].

How can I get printed patient education materials and Cancer.Net promotional materials?

Please note that it has become necessary for ASCO, as a nonprofit organization, to implement a small charge for the ASCO Answers Fact Sheets and Patient Education Guides and Booklets, to help cover printing and development costs. All patient education materials ship for free and ASCO members are also eligible for a discount; please have your member ID number ready when you place your order.

All printed materials are available for ordering through the ASCO University Bookstore [8]. Please allow 2-3 weeks for delivery.

ASCO continues to offer all Cancer.Net promotional materials (such as referral cards, leaflets, cancer information prescription pads, and mobile app cards) free of charge. Please email contactus@cancer.net [7] to place an order.

For further information on printed materials, please contact ASCO's customer service department between 8:30am and 5:00pm ET at 888-273-3508 or 703-519-1430, or send an e-mail to ascopubs@asco.org [9].

Where can I learn more about Cancer.Net and ASCO?

Details about Cancer.Net's medical review process and ASCO can be found on the About Us [10] page.

Who do I contact if I'm a reporter/with a media organization and wish to use Cancer.Net information?

Contact ASCO's Media Relations department, at mediateam@asco.org [11].

How can I contact Cancer.Net about writing a guest post for the blog?

The Cancer.Net Blog [12] offers patients and patient advocates the opportunity to tell their stories and reach out to our community of people living with cancer, caregivers, friends, family members, and health care professionals. Unfortunately, we are not able to work with everyone who would like to write a guest post. Take a look at our Guest Posting Policies [13] to see if your idea would be a good fit. To learn more about guest posting or ask any other questions about the blog, email blog@cancer.net [14].

How can I provide Cancer.Net with feedback about the site?

Tell us what you think of Cancer.Net! Receiving input from visitors like you is one of the most important ways we learn about what users value on the site and get ideas for future growth. Feel free to contact us directly through our feedback form [15].
